

Topic: Technology Confab - Devices and techniques NCM's can use NOW to save time and operate "on the fly" and in real time - i.e. so you don't have to wait until you get home or to the office to take care of everything. Featuring nurse case managers who have incorporated various technology devices into their daily course of activities. (and are loving them!)

Tuesday 11/8/11

Start time: 5:30 EDT We will run up to 2 hours in duration

Location: IU Health Occupational Services Corporate Office (adjacent to Back to Work Center)

At 4850 West Century Plaza Rd, Suite 140 Indianapolis, IN 46254  Bring dinner/snack with you. Despite what the building entrance door says, food & drink is allowed in our conference room

Speakers/Presenters and their devices: Dawn Smith, RN - Netbook with aircard + Android smart phone. Anastasia Settle, RN - iPhone smart phone, Myrna Hales, RN - iPad2 with 3G, and perhaps a Corvel nurse to show what they're doing with their universal iPad set up. This is your chance to check out these devices and think about how you could do what these nurses are doing to save yourself time, including stop searching for "stuff"!!! And lugging around so much paper.

Virtual Option: Okay, we're being ambitious on this one, in the spirit of the topic! Of course this kind of topic is best in person so you can check out the devices hands on, as well as ask your own questions. And I would like to see good attendance in honor of Dawn & Anastasia's willingness to do this for us. Having said that, if you can't attend in person but would like to attend "virtually", please RSVP to me via email. I will send you instructions and a link to attend via live webinar - which means you will watch us live on your computer screen

No December meeting due to busy Holiday schedules**
